Indian Hop Pickers.

Slwash Indians from Puget Sound and British Columbia, do most of the hop picking in western Washington, and the annual migration from the reservations to the hop yards has already taken place. The dusky red man is valuable to the growers, and in many instances superior to the white picker. The growers pay $1 a box, and the average buck earns $2 a day.

WILL AGREE TO ARBITRATE

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO APPOINT COMMISSION

Strikers Must Return to Work and Their Cases Will Be Submitted to Arbitrators

The operators through J. Pierpont Morgan have agreed to the appointment of a commission to be appointed by the President of the United States, to whom shall be referred all questions at issue between the companies and their employees, whether they belong to a union or not, and the decision of the commission shall be accepted by the operators.

The commission is to consist of an army or navy engineer officer, an expert mining engineer not connected with the coal-mining properties, one of the judges of the United States courts of the Eastern district of Pennsylvania, a man of prominence, eminent as a sociologist, and a man who by active participation in mining and selling coal is familiar with the physical and commercial features of the business.

The operators also make a part of their proposition that the miners shall return to work as soon as the commission is constituted, and cease all interference with non-union men. The commission to name a date when its findings shall be effective and to govern conditions of employment between the companies and their own employees for at least three years.

The statement was read to the President as an act of courtesy before being given to the press.

J. Pierpont Morgan went to Washington Monday night to represent the coal operators and purpose an amended proposition from them for ending the strike. The operators have at last realized that they offered not only the President but the American people by their refusal to consider any plan of arbitration which recognizes the President as the creator of the court.

Mr. Morgan and Mr. Cassatt, president of the Pennsylvania railroad company, have had to step into the breach between the operators and the people, and Mr. Morgan went to Washington to make new overtures. He went to try to save the operators and let them down from arbitrary position without eating too much humble pie.

Mr. Morgan arrived in Washington shortly before ten o'clock in the evening, accompanied by R. M. Bacon, one of his partners, who was a class-mate and intimate friend of President Roosevelt. They went to the hotel where they met Secretary Root, and from the hotel the three gentlemen walked over to the President's house at 1615. They passed up stairs to the President's room and remained until after midnight.

It is said by one in the confidence of the operators that Mr. Morgan came to propose a new plan of arbitration, which would be an expansion of that offered by the operators when they met the President two weeks ago. That plan was that the grievances of the individual miners should be presented to the Judges of the Common Pleas courts in the districts where their representative colliers are located. This plan ignored the President, who had invited the conference and who had been suggested as the arbitrator by Mr. Mitchell.

The operators are now willing, and even anxious, to have the President select the court of arbitrators, but have it still configured to the individual colliers, so as not to give recognition to the United Mine Workers or Mr. Mitchell.

It is said that Mr. Morgan came to offer this plan and request the President to select the court of arbitration in any way he may please, making it the Common Pleas Judges in Pennsylvania or the district Judges, or any other high official he may think best, but to have the arbitration confined to the grievances of the individual colliers separate, so that there be no common basis of arbitration to compel the operators to deal with the organization of United Mine Workers.

It is further said that this plan has been suggested to Mr. Mitchell, not as coming from the operators, but from outside sources, and that he expressed a willingness to consider it if the operators would.

Mr. Morgan, Mr. Bacon and Secretary Root went into conference with the President at the temporary white house about 10:30 o'clock in the evening. President Bacon of the Reading railroad was not at the White House, although it was reported he was in Washington.

At 11:45 the conference was still engaged in discussing the strike situation. So far as known only the four gentlemen heretofore named, the President, Secretary Root, and Messrs. Morgan and Bacon, were present. After the discussion had lasted some time Secretary Cortelyou was summoned, presumably to take some directions or to reduce some matter to writing.

The conference broke up at 11:50 o'clock. Secretary Root and Messrs. Morgan and Bacon, on its adjournment, once left the White House and went to the Metropolitan club a few blocks away. None of them would say anything except to refer all inquiries to Mr. Cortelyou, whom they said, a settlement would be given and law.

Mr. Cortelyou said he would prepare a statement for the press and make it public as soon as he could complete what was to be said concerning the conference.

Secretary Root was asked the direct question, if a settlement of the strike had been reached, but declined to answer, saying it would all be given out in the statement from Mr. Cortelyou.

Mr. Morgan, likewise, was appealed to with a direct question, but pleasantly responded that anything that was to be said would have to come from the gentlemen in the White House.

High School Concert.

The high school concert was a marked success, financially and socially, and it will be remembered as one of the very best home talent concerts ever given in the city. The choruses were very fine, seventy-five voices assisting. Miss Bertha James rendered, "Stay in Your Own Back Yard" in a way that was highly entertaining and reflected much credit on the young vocalist. Miss Pauline Smart recited "The Risk" perfectly, and elicited much praise, while Willie Blair spoke of the "Drug Boy" to the amusement of all. Miss Ruth Seymour rendered the "Little Match Seller" in her faultless manner, adding a new chapter to her record as a young elocutionist, and Miss Olive Tiffany told "Why Jennie and the Cows Came Home So Late" in a peculiarly pleasing manner, characteristic of that young lady, while Miss Jennie Sibley represented the "Younger Sister" in a manner that was entertaining and pleasing to all. Masters Ernest Kelly and Harold Shugart did remarkably well in their vocal duet and displayed something of what the future may realize. The piano duet by the Cubbon brothers was well rendered reflecting much credit on the boys and the duet by the Misses Hockney and Higgins was highly enjoyed by all.

Miss Eva Gray portrayed the troubles of a "Bald Headed Man" in a manner that everybody enjoyed, and the vocal duet of the Misses Shugart and Williams was well rendered, their voices blending and well balanced. The recitation by Miss Gertrude Smart was rendered with the same perfection that always characterizes her efforts in that direction and the piano numbers by the Misses Webb, Higgins and Drom were ably executed and universally appreciated.

One of the most pleasing features of the evening was a violin solo by Miss Lora Waters of Harvard, Ill., accompanied by her sister, Miss Pearl. Miss Waters displayed perfect technique, excellent tempo and was admirably sustained by her young accompanist. These young people who have won a high place in the estimation of our music lovers will always be pleasantly remembered by our audiences and Harvard may well feel proud of her young artists.

Now it would be useless to describe the storm of applause that greeted Miss Lera Billett and her accompanist, Prof. G. H. Huber, the zither soloist. That Miss Billett scored a success goes without saying and Prof. Huber was released by the audience only after repeated encores every one of which were highly pleasing.

Tenth Anniversary Celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pitman, Jr., celebrated the tenth anniversary of their marriage at their home on Main street, Saturday evening, Oct. 11. A beautiful supper was served at 5:30 p. m., after which the assembled guests were entertained with music and charades until about 9 o'clock, when all departed for their homes wishing the happy couple many returns of the anniversary and leaving behind them a good many substantial tokens in the form of tin and granite ware and china. These presents from Antioch were: Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Emmons, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Pitman, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Grice, Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Carr, and Mrs. John Porter, Mrs. J. M. Simons, Mrs. Carrie Hook, Mrs. Belle Gilbert, Mr. Alfred Ecker, Miss Alice Emmons, Sam Gilbert, Will Pitman, Mildred Elfinger, Ben Emmons, Leo Karr, Mr. Wm. Emmons and family and Claude Stevens, from Grayslake; Mr. Frank Hucker and family of Lake Villa and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Webb of Hickory.

New Hotel For Waukegan.

The old "Waukegan House" a building which has been identified with the greater part of Waukegan's history till it has become a veritable landmark, is soon to be a thing of the past. The old structure which has been a popular caravansary for over half a century and which has sheltered many whose names have figured prominently in national history, is to give way to a new and entirely modern structure which will be an ornament to the city.

The hotel will be closed to the public next Saturday and the demolishing of the building will soon follow to make way for the new structure which will soon occupy its site. All the contents are to be sold for a song and many bargains are in store for those needing household goods.

SUTTON'S THOUSANDS

DEMANDED OF DOWIE BY JUDGE CUTTING

Cook County Probate Court Takes a Hand in the Sutton Will Case and Makes Decisive Move.

John Alexander Dowie experienced a decided jar Wednesday. The Sutton will case, which was transferred from the Lake county court, was brought into the probate court of Cook county. After the court heard the petition of the heirs of Sutton, Judge Cutting appointed a commissioner to demand $50,000 from Dowie, the sum representing the estate. When he died Mr. Sutton left a will with a codicil. In the will made on March 22, 1902, and witnessed by Frank W. Cotton and Wilbur O. Ruby, both Dowieites, Sutton "gives, devises and bequeaths" to Dowie of all his property. Deacon John G. Speicher was appointed executor. The codicil, dated March 25, states, "After further consideration and acting in the fear of God, in whose presence I may soon appear, I do give, devise and bequeath the following legacies: Mrs. Ellen Eldridge, sister, Yellow Bluff, New Zealand, $1,000; John B. Sutton, brother, Fairview, Thornbury, New Zealand, $500; Charles Sutton, brother, Drummond, Otago, New Zealand, $500; George Sutton, Willoewinton, New Zealand, $500.

The will and codicil were filed in Lake county. Then the relatives contested and the matter was taken into the Circuit court of Lake county. That court decided that it had no jurisdiction, and referred the matter to the Probate court of Cook county.

Monday the matter was brought before the court on the petition of Ellen Eldridge. She asserts that the money placed in deposit by Sutton has been invested in the Zion City land industry and in the Zion City Loan and Investment company, and a claim is to be made for the cash deposit instead of the certificates of stock offered her.

Judge Cutting at once appointed Mr. Shannon, who is one of his assistants, administrator to collect, and told him to go to Zion to make demand on Deacon Speicher for the cash.

Judge Cutting, in explaining his action, said that his jurisdiction extended over Lake county.

"I shall call on Dr. Speicher and make a formal demand for the return of the property, as I understand it is in his possession," said N. J. Shannon. "I do not anticipate that he will refuse, but should he do so, he will be cited to appear in court. Failure to do so would put him in contempt and he would be punished therefor."

Extensive Apple Orchard.

Missouri is to have a 5,000-acre apple orchard, the largest in the world. The Frisco road will build a track through it from end to end, and depots and warehouses will be erected for the storage of the product.

An evaporating plant, a vinegar and cider plant, and a canning establishment will be erected and facilities provided for caring for every portion of the orchard's product on a business basis the keynote to which is like that of the packing houses—not a thing shall be wasted.

The big orchard is to be located in Laclede county, about three miles from Lebanon, on a tract occupying a northern plateau, nearly the whole of the 5,000 acres sloping to the north, a condition much sought for by orchardists. It is owned by a company officered by Iowans and which expects to make an investment on the property of $1,000,000.

It is proposed to set about 4,800 acres of the tract to apples, the remaining 200 acres being reserved for buildings and other necessary purposes. Two-year-old apple trees are to be planted on 1,000 acres next spring and 250 acres of peach trees are to be planted, these to afford quicker returns than can be expected from the apple trees.

The peach trees will be supplied by apple trees later, however. From the peach orchard returns are expected in three years while for the apple trees six years are allowed. While the trees are growing the company will plant the land to corn, berries and other crops in order to get a return from year to year. Stump-pullers and steam plows are already to work, and the contract has been let for clearing the entire tract.

Train on the Burlington Road Held up Near Lincoln, Neb.

The Burlington St. Louis Pacific Coast express which leaves Lincoln for the northwest at 1:10 a. m. was held up five miles out of the city about half past one o'clock this morning.

The train reaches Lincoln about 12:55 a. m. and leaves for the northwest ten minutes later. It was a few minutes late this morning and was in charge of Conductor O. A. Lyman and engineer L. A. Clayburg. On the crest of a hill midway between the city and town of Woodlawn the engineer saw a red light waved across the track and brought the train to a standstill. Two men sprang quickly into the cab, covering Clayburg and his fireman with revolvers. They lost no time in giving their orders and was just as promptly obeyed. The express car was cut from the rest of the train and ran ahead a short distance. They found the door locked and after commanding Messenger Lupton to open it, and getting no response fired two or three shots into the car. The door was then opened. A heavy charge of dynamite on the safe literally tore it all to pieces. Fourteen packages said to contain $100 each were taken, together with other valuables.

The two men who were in the car politely bade the trainmen good morning, jumped into the car and disappeared in the darkness. The passengers were not molested, nor were the trainmen asked for their belongings.

While the robbery in the express car was going on a third robber walked alongside the track by the passenger coaches and fired his revolver occasionally to keep inquisitive inquirers off the track. A brakeman who alighted from the rear coach to go ahead found a revolver pushed in his face with a warning to go back where he belonged. He ran the four miles to Lincoln yards and was the first to give the alarm.

The robbers were cool, talkative, and apparently experts. The whole job occupied scarcely an hour. The train was run back to Lincoln, the wrecked express car taken out and at 4 o'clock it resumed its journey the original crew going out with it. Following it was Chief of Police Hoagland, Detective Malone and his two bloodhounds and three police officers.

At the scene of the hold-up the bounds took the scent and the pursuit of the robbers was actively begun.

Every town and village marshal and every county sheriff in Southeastern Nebraska has been notified of the robbery and told to be on the watch.

The loss by the robbery as given out by officials of the Burlington is placed at $50,000. They have offered a reward of $1000 for the capture of the gang.

The booty consisted principally of gold coin. This made the burden of the robbers exceeding heavy and accounts for the broad trail discovered by Chief Hoagland.

School Notes.

Poor weather for Biology—neither buds nor bugs.

Joseph Rhynier entered the eighth grade this week.

Mr. Sualley, of Chicago, was a caller Monday afternoon.

The foot ball team is talking of going to Hebron to play the High School eleven of that town. Our boys are possessed of the right material and require practice, only to develop something good.

Elmer Hegeman, of Milwaukee, made us a pleasant call Monday. Mr. Hegeman will soon enter upon the duties of choir-master of a west side Episcopal church where he is sure to be successful as he possesses remarkable musical ability coupled with industry.

The appearance of several of our rooms has been made more cheerful and attractive by flowers, potted plants and pictures. This with music and drawing is a move in the right direction. If the education is worthy the name it should tend toward the development of the spiritual as well as intellectual and physical.

The concert given by the school last Friday, was a success in every way, nearly $45.00 being the gross receipts. The young people are very much encouraged over the prospect of the future, and feel very grateful for the liberal patronage extended by the people of Antioch and vicinity.

The freshmen Latin people are making excellent progress and if it were not for a peculiar turn of the English occasionally, you could not readily distinguish them from genuine sophomores. Some one last week, wondered why some Freshmen are less conspicuous on the green grass than on the street. It must be an optical illusion.

Malt House Burned.

The village of Burlington experienced one of the most disastrous fires at 12 o'clock Thursday, in its history, the large plant of the Burlington Maltting company being totally destroyed, together with 50,000 bushels of malt and barley. The loss will exceed $90,000, and there is an insurance of about $75,000. The origin of the conflagration is not known at this time.

WEEK'S NEWS RECORD

Thomas J. Sharkey, charged with being responsible for the death of Nicholas Fish, banker, in New York City, and who is under indictment for manslaughter in the first degree, has been released on $7,500 bail by Recorder Goff after three weeks' imprisonment.

The eight-hour schedule has gone into effect at all the flour mills in Minneapolis. Hereafter there will be three instead of two shifts. While the millwrights do not identify themselves with the eight-hour movement it has been understood that the rate of 35 cents an hour would apply equally to them.

J. P. Morgan visited President Roosevelt, and on behalf of the coal operators agreed to submit differences with anthracite miners to arbitration by a commission to be named by the President. As this proposal was originally made by John Mitchell and is agreeable to the strikers, an end of the struggle is in sight.

Counterfeit American silver dollars are being made in China and circulated in Manila. The suspicion is held that some of this money was shipped from San Francisco. The dollars are of silver and of standard weight. They have been detected through the improper stamping of the word "Liberty" on the goddess.

Charles G. Dale, cashier of the New York County National Bank, was found dead in his home in West New Brighton, having shot himself during the night. At the bank it was said that an investigation of his accounts was in progress, but later it was announced that Dale's accounts were correct and no cause for his suicide was known.

The last copies of the new wage scales of the Window Glass Workers' Association at Pittsburgh have been mailed and arrangements completed for a general resumption of window glass factories. From the present outlook the plants of the American Window Glass Company will be more fully manned than last year. This is due to the removal of all fines imposed on skilled workers who left the old organization and were employed in independent plants.

At Tracy, Minn., Ed Stricker shot and killed his wife and young son, seriously wounded Frank McCallister and then committed suicide. Stricker and his wife had been living apart for two years. The other afternoon he followed his wife into McCallister's furniture store and drawing a revolver shot her dead. After firing another bullet through the head of their little boy he turned his weapon on his father-in-law, L. Harvey. The shot wounded McCallister, who is in a critical condition.

At the conference of representatives of lumber association in Atlanta, Ga., preliminaries for the organization of what promises to prove the largest combination of lumber manufacturers in the world were arranged. A call has been issued for a meeting of lumbermen in St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 9 and 10, at which time a national association will be formed, with members from every part of the United States. Those who attended the conference just closed represented an annual output of 5,500,000,000 feet of lumber.

Walker Humphreys, a widely known Philadelphia real estate dealer who is about to enter the cattle business with headquarters in Chicago, was fined $500 and costs, which amounted to $45.81, for having struck his wife, Priscilla Humphreys, with a chair during a quarrel.

Onward, the great trotting steed, died suddenly at the farm of Peter Duryea at Lexington, Ky. He was foaled in 1875 by George Wilkes, dam Dolly (dam of Director, 21st, etc.), by Mambrino Chief. He was owned by Peter Duryea and W. B. D. Stokes, the New York agent.

EASTERN.

Mamie Quinlan, aged 22, of Naugatuck, Conn., was killed and over a score hurt in a wreck on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, near Danbury, Conn.

Henry J. Rose, the New York theatrical man who shot and killed his wife, has been indicted by the grand jury for murder in the first degree. He will be taken into court to plead.

Dynamite placed on the tracks near Jenkins' Switch, Pa., wrecked a freight train. Whether the dynamite was expected to blow up a train carrying soldiers or one bearing coal is only surmise.

Burglars dynamited the safe in the ticket office of the Pittsburgh and Western Railroad Company at Allegheny, Pa., and secured about $800 in cash. No tickets were taken. The thieves left no trace.

Miss Alice Fisher, employed in the government printing office in Washington, was shot and killed by William Dougherty, an employee of the same office. Dougherty also shot and killed himself. Jealousy was the motive.

One man was killed and twelve persons were injured in a rear-end collision of passenger trains on the Pennsylvania Railroad near Monticello Park, N. J. The western express was run into by a local passenger train from Philadelphia.

Fire damaged the six-story building at 478 and 480 Pearl street, New York, and its contents to the extent of $75,000. The fire for a time threatened many lives and compelled the firemen to drive tenants out and lift children from their beds.

Having made and lost fortunes and finding himself broken in health and almost penniless at the age of 70, Charles W. Lewis, well-known New York promoter and member of a leading Fifth avenue club, ended his life with morphine.

Violence is again reported in the anthracite region. One striker was killed by a guard, two trains were wrecked by dynamite, circulars suggesting the murder of oppressors were posted and 1,000 rounds of ammunition for strikers were confiscated.

Brockstedt had shot Mrs. Adams in the forehead the evening before.

While passenger train No. 4 on the Pennsylvania main line was plowing east through a fog a heavy laden freight was wrecked in front of it at Barre, Pa. Before the flagman of the freight could run back to stop the express following the heavy passenger train dashed into the wreckage of fourteen freight cars. Two were killed and a number injured.

Ten large financial projects, the combined capitalization of which is $1,150,000,000, are at a standstill in New York because of the secrecy of money.

In addition there is a number of smaller combinations, whose proposed capitalization will amount to $200,000,000 more, which lack completion because of the recent stringency in the money market.

Prof. Philip H. Clark of Assenot, Mass., was arraigned in court on the charge of having attempted to poison the family of his cousin, Mrs. S. A. Terry, and her brother, Frank Barrows, six persons in all, by putting sugar of lead in the wells from which they drew their water supply. It is known that a feud existed between Prof. Clark and his distant cousins.

COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL

New York.

"Distribution of merchandise shows no diminution for continued activity. Dealers in many lines are urgent for prompt shipments, calling on jobbers and manufacturers for goods already overdue. This indication of reduced stocks is a good sign and tends to sustain quotations. Western reports are especially favorable and the early marketing of cotton has brought distinct improvement at the South. Voluntary advances in wages have been announced in a number of instances, while the labor situation is more satisfactory, although not entirely free from controversy. Transportation facilities have improved in the coke region, where congestion was becoming severe, and railway earnings thus far reported for September exceed last year's by 94 per cent." The foregoing is from the weekly trade review of R. G. Dun & Co. It continues:

Pig iron furnaces are receiving larger consignments of coke, and there is less interruption because of fuel scarcity. The situation is by no means satisfactory, however, and production of iron and steel would expand considerably if facilities were normal. Much of the relief has come from large imports, the extent of which is not generally appreciated.

During August alone pig iron imports were 79,447 tons, and for eight months 257,210 tons, valued at $4,676,640, while receipts of steel billets were worth still more. Recently the purchases abroad have extended to steel rails and structural shapes. Quotations are fully sustained on these products, but the inequalities of the market are shown by declines in sheets, wire nails and bar wire, while the tin plates are dull, and efforts are still being made to retain business abroad by special wage arrangements. It is interesting to note that a year ago tin plates were being freely imported because of labor controversies.

Bradstreet's report says:

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending Oct. 2 aggregate 6,870,573 bushels, against 6,077,070 last week, 105,749 this week last year and 4,450,107 in 1900. Wheat exports since July 1 aggregate 67,484,713 bushels, against 81,847,910 last season and 47,212,697 in 1900. Corn exports aggregate 141,423 bushels, against 74,952 last week, 607,924 last year and 2,364,240 in 1900. For the fiscal year exports are 1,107,234 bushels, against 13,626,504 last season and 44,811,061 in 1900.

The country at large presents the view of a land filled with prosperity, yet burdened with the same temporary adverse conditions that have ruled for a time. In the matter of the car scarcity the center of complaint has shifted further west, and the loudest cry comes from the cattle shippers.

As the great expectations of last year are being realized, so there is the promise that predictions for the period to come will be borne out in full. The Northern Pacific put out its annual showing, gross earnings of $40,008,000, or $4,178,126 over the previous year, and with the present volume of business along its lines is heading to break this record in the next showing, and this is true of all northwestern roads.

In the wheat market there is now much talk of the competition of the Manitoba crop. It is probable this will be felt earlier on this crop year than last. The Canadian roads had better facilities for the prompt handling of the crop, which makes it probable that the competition will be felt more keenly this fall than last, and not so much perhaps in the spring. The sooner this comes the better, since this Canadian wheat must be marketed ultimately. So while this factor, the lack of speculative interest, and dullness in foreign markets may operate in some degree to hold down prices for a time, there is no decided change of sentiment which in the Northwest is favorable to wheat as a long time proposition, based on the legitimate supply and demand outlook.

GRAND ARMY ENCAMPMENT.

Nation's Capital Is Captured by Civil War Veterans.

Washington correspondence: Without the firing of a gun Washington was surrendered to the forces of the Grand Army of the Republic. The throng taxed the capacity of the railroads, and it is estimated that the attendance at the encampment broke the record of similar gatherings in recent years and that there were as many strangers in the city as ordinarily attend presidential inaugurations.

The naval parade and many reunions were the entertainments given the Grand Army veterans during the second day. The weather was threatening during the early morning, but the sun burst through the clouds about noon, so that with the mild temperature which prevailed there was no reason for complaint on that score. The attendance steadily increased during the day and at night the city was crowded as it has been only on very rare occasions.

The naval parade of the forenoon was not as large as many that have been seen in Washington, but it was in every way interesting. The veterans of the navy each appeared to be an embodiment of much of the nation's recent history, and every squad of them was an object of interested observation. They were generally old men, and many bore evidences of wounds received in battle. In striking contrast to them were the young men of all the branches of the present service, who marched with them as an escort of honor, as it were. This escort included representatives of both the land and naval forces, and they elicited much favorable comment for their fine appearance as men, as they did for the excellent discipline displayed by them.

Procession of Heroes. The remnants of the magnificent armies of Grant, Sherman, Thomas, Slocum and Sheridan, which participated in the grand review at the close of the Civil War again Wednesday passed up the historic Pennsylvania avenue and were reviewed by the President. The survivors of the bronzed, black-haired legions who marched twenty-four abreast for two days before President Johnson with flowers in the muzzles of their guns and with victory and the hope of the future shining in their faces had become old, white-haired men, with their active service behind them.

President Roosevelt reviewed the parade in his carriage. He was carried downstairs from his room on the second floor of the temporary White House in an invalid's chair and, amid the cheers of a large crowd, was placed in the carriage, in which there was a board to support his injured leg. The veterans faced the carriage as the President drove by and saluted him.

Women's Relief Corps. One of the interesting features of the G. A. R. encampment was the convention of the Women's Relief Corps, which opened Thursday morning. Over 8,000 delegates attended. At the national headquarters Mrs. Joseph B. Foraker, Mrs. Charles M. Fairbanks, Mrs. John A. Logan and Mrs. Eugene Ware participated in the reception. Mrs. Roosevelt gave

THE MAN OF THE HOUR.

Gov. William A. Stone of Pennsylvania, the man of the hour in the coal strike, has a remarkable personality. He stands six feet four in his stocking feet, weighs 250 pounds, never wears a silk hat, is a great walker and is never too tired to play "bear" with his children. As United States district attorney he was Cleveland's first victim under the "offensive partisan" policy, and made a fight at that time that attracted national attention. He had served four terms in Congress prior to his election as Governor in 1893, earned high honors in the Civil War, and has been known always as a fighter. He was born in Pennsylvania April 18, 1846, has been twice married and has six children.

a reception to the Women's Relief Corps Wednesday evening. Mrs. Fairbanks and Mrs. Foraker on Thursday evening, and Mrs. Logan on Friday. There were three candidates for the presidency, Mrs. Sarah D. Winans of Toledo, Mrs. Lobuskey J. Taylor of Leveur, Minn., and Mrs. Anna M. Hall of New Martinsville, Va.

Five thousand veterans and their friends attended the camp fire at Convention Hall Tuesday night. The hall was decorated entirely with American flags. The ceremonies were opened with a medley of patriotic airs by the United States Marine Band, followed by songs, speeches and music. The principal address of the evening was by Gen. Eli Torrance, commander-in-chief.

RIOT IN NEW ORLEANS.

Attempt to Run Street Cars Results in a Battle.

In New Orleans a bloody street riot followed the street car company's attempt to operate its cars for the first time since the strike began ten days ago. Policeman Schlessinger was shot through the head and mortally wounded, M. L. Kennedy, a non-union conductor, was wounded in the hand. Motorman Ferguson, one of the strikers, was shot through the left arm. A score of policemen and bystanders were painfully wounded by bricks and other flying missiles. Fifty shots were fired before the excitement subsided. A platoon of police charged the crowd with drawn clubs and a number of arrests were made.

The first car which started from the barns was in charge of Motorman Nix, who came from Chicago to take the job, and Conductor Kennedy. An immense crowd of people, including strikers, their sympathizers and curiosity seekers, was in Wells street. As the car approached Dorgenois street the mob rushed out, tore up the sidewalks from each side of the street and threw the boards across the track to impede the progress of the car. Bricks and stones were hurled at the car as it came to a standstill near the obstruction pile. The crowd made a rush for the non-union men on board. The policeman in the car fell upon the floor to protect himself from the rain of missiles. There was not a pane of glass left in the car.

The bluecoats finally escaped from the car and charged the crowd. A shot was fired. Then many shots followed, both the police and men in the throng using revolvers.

NEW POST FOR GEN. BRAGG.

Transferred from Havana Consulate to Hongkong.

Edward S. Bragg, consul general at Havana, has been transferred to the post of United States consul general at Hongkong, taking the place of William A. Rublee, who has been transferred to the consulate at Havana.

The transfer of Gen. Bragg is due to the fact that he is not popular with the people. Shortly after his assumption of his duties at Havana he wrote a letter to his wife in which he stated in effect that one might as well try to make a whistle out of a pig's tail as to try to do anything with the Cubans, and this becoming public caused resentment on the part of the people of the island.

GREAT SUCCESS OF STATE FAIR.

Despite Bad Weather the Gate Receipts Reach Total of $34,000.

Rainy weather failed to make the Illinois State fair at Springfield a failure, and the exposition closed after a most successful week from a financial standpoint. The gross receipts will reach $50,000, which will be as large as last year, and will leave a balance of a few thousand dollars in the treasury. The total gate receipts were $34,000. With the closing of the fair, the active work of Martin Conrad as president of the Board of Agriculture practically ended, although his term does not expire until next July. His constituents have acknowledged his successful administration by again electing him a member of the board, the first time such a compliment was ever paid a retiring president. The directors of the county agricultural fairs of Illinois held their election for president and members of the State Board of Agriculture. The result was the choice of James B. Dickerson of Lawrenceville to succeed Martin Conrad of Chicago as president. The following board was elected:

First District—Martin Conrad, Chicago. Second District—James Brown, Chicago. Third District—Ira McCord, Blue Island. Fourth District—Wm. E. Skinn, Chicago. Fifth District—To be filled. Sixth District—F. C. Rossier, Chicago. Seventh District—James Frake, Chicago. Eighth District—Aljo Bierma, Chicago. Ninth District—J. F. Rehm, Chicago. Tenth District—J. H. Seaver, Libertyville. Eleventh District—Charles F. Dyke, Mendota.

Twelfth District—George H. Madden, Mendota.

Thirteenth District—John D. Turnbaugh, Mount Carroll.

Fourteenth District—A. D. Baber, Hamilton.

Fifteenth District—D. W. Vittum, Canton.

Sixteenth District—James K. Hopkins, Princeton.

Seventeenth District—John A. Sweet, Marshfield.

Nineteenth District—C. A. Tatum, Monticello.

Twentieth District—O. A. Axtan, Jerseyville.

Twenty-first District—J. F. Prainer, Williamsville.

Twenty-second District—S. M. Ripley, Belleville.

Twenty-third District—Thomas S. Marshall, Salem.

Twenty-fourth District—John M. Crebs, Carmi.

Twenty-fifth District—John Goodall, Marion.

SPALDING GOES BACK TO PRISON.

Former Banker Fails in Effort to Secure Release from Penitentiary.

Charles Warren Spalding stood with bowed head the other day and listened to a decision that blasted his hope of early freedom. Judge Smith and Judge Bishop, sitting on banc in Chicago, ruled that the former banker must be returned to Joliet, and that at once. The decision was enforced at 11 o'clock the other night. At first Spalding did not seem to realize the significance of the judges' words, so sure had he been that he was about to regain his liberty. Then, pale and trembling, he raised his head and pleaded for "just one day" more in Chicago to adjust his affairs. The judges ruled that they could grant no stay. Spalding was taken from Joliet on July 17 last on a writ of habeas corpus issued by Judge Danne. The first petition was withdrawn from Judge Danne's court and an amended one filed in another court. Two contentions were made in the petition. The first was that Spalding was illegally held because the judgment of midnight under which he was committed to the crime to be embezzlement, and the statutes make the punishment for that crime a fine and imprisonment of not more than three years. Spalding has served more than that time already. The second reason given for asking Spalding's release was that the State board of pardons had acted arbitrarily in refusing to grant him a parole.

VOIDS PRISON LABOR.

Contracts a Violation of Specific Clause in the Constitution.

Ooy. Yates has received the opinion of Attorney General Hamilton on the contract convict labor system, in which the latter holds that all existing convict labor contracts are in violation of the constitution and expresses the opinion that the State cannot make contracts for the employment of the inmates of its penal institutions. The opinion is written in uncompromising language and is over a thousand words long. Its importance can be recognized when it is remembered that two-thirds of the revenue for maintaining the penal institutions of Illinois is derived from the labor of the convicts. With the abolishment of the contract convict labor system the expenses of the State government will be increased several hundred thousand dollars. The opinion quotes the following constitutional provision: "Hereafter it shall be unlawful for the commissioners of any penitentiary or other reformatory institution in the State of Illinois to let by contract to any person or persons or corporation the labor of any convict confined within said institution."

RAISES AN IMPORTANT POINT.

Corporations May Organize Elsewhere and Dodge Local Taxes.

The Board of Equalization held a short meeting in Springfield. Recently the capital stock committee sent blanks to the Kankakee Electric Light Company to be filled out, and received a reply that the company is organized as a foreign corporation under the laws of West Virginia. As a foreign corporation, although its business lies wholly within the State of Illinois, the capital stock of the Kankakee Electric Light Company is not assessable by the Board of Equalization. The peculiar condition confronting the board has raised the question, "Why cannot the big corporations of Chicago organize in other States as foreign corporations and become exempt from a capital stock assessment by the Board of Equalization?"

State News in Brief.

Smallpox is reported in Kappa and Janya. Dr. E. S. Baker of Jacksonville, a smallpox expert, was sent to investigate.

E. E. Bondnot, a business man of Danville, and former member of the Legislature, has been missing for several days.

William Kapsa, a prisoner at the Chicago bridge, died of a fractured skull, which a coroner's jury believe to have been accidental.

Joseph Grove, aged 75 years, drowned himself in Kent creek near Rockford. His body was found by his son, Jacob Grove of Burlington.

William Casper and John Rump of Chicago were fatally injured at St. Joseph, Mo., by the collapse of the top floor of a new bank building.

Crazed by jealousy that is supposed to have unbalanced his mind, Policeman Luther McNear killed his wife and committed suicide at Springfield.

John Pfaff, father of ten children and one of the largest land owners in northern Illinois, committed suicide by taking poison at his home in Algonquin.

One dollar damages is all it cost Dr. Charles S. Schuermann of Chicago for alienating the affections of Nicholas Elch's wife, who is now Mrs. Schuermann.

Owing to a scarcity of evangelists Chicago Presbyterian ministers will be periodically detached from their regular charges in order to do evangelistic work on that field.

Patsy Flaherty and Charles Denny, awaiting trial for attempting to rob the First National Bank of Cobden, escaped from jail at Jonesboro by sawing through the grating of their cell.

Six pretty stenographers working overtime were forgotten by the janitor and they were rescued from the fourth floor of 352 Wabash avenue, Chicago, by a hook and ladder company.

The University of Chicago has been chosen in preference to any of the Eastern colleges as the place for the education of ten experienced teachers representing five provinces of Canada.

Incorporation papers have been filed for an electric railroad to be constructed from Davis Junction, running to McNabb, a distance of seventy-five miles. The incorporators reside in Chicago.

The Supreme Court has granted permission to Hillel Lodge, No. 72, independent order of B'nai B'rith of Chicago, to file a petition for mandamus to compel Secretary of State Rose to restore its charter.

Dan Avery, a negro accused of the murder of Rachel Davis, colored, in Keneshaw, Wis., was captured by the police of Waukegan. When he found that he was surrounded by officers he fell to his knees and prayed that his life be spared.

Fire destroyed $10,000 worth of hard wood stored in the lumber kilns of the Pullman car shops. The blaze was caused presumably by overheated steam pipes which heat the kilns and pass the woods through a drying process which serves in lieu of seasoning.

After having been in bed continually since 1878, Mrs. Dora Gerstenkorn died at Kankakee. She sustained a shock twenty-nine years ago when her brother was brought home after a railroad accident with a broken leg, from which she never recovered.

Joliet city's library building fund has been enriched by the receipt of $29,084.95 in cash, the gift of Col. John Lambert. Five years ago he secured from the Council fifty-year electric light and telephone franchises. These he sold and the city was given the proceeds. The notes are now coming due. There is still $12,000 to come in.

A strong force of men is at work repairing Penna coal shaft No. 2 for the purpose of resuming operations. The mine has been idle for the last eight years owing to lack of business. The demand for coal is becoming so great that the owners have concluded they can again find ready sale for their output. The mine will give 300 men employment.

The annual report of Evan D. John, State mine inspector, has just been completed. It includes the coal operations of the twenty-one southern Illinois counties forming the Seventh district. The value of the products of the mines was $3,721,353; the total output, including all grades of coal, was 4,378,400 tons, an increase over last year of 533,147 tons; the number of tons mined by hand was 3,164,042, and by machines, 1,214,358.

Illinois Masons soon will have a home for widows and orphans of Masons. It will be located near Sullivan. At the session of the grand lodge, held in Chicago, an appropriation of $25,000 was voted for the erection of buildings upon the 200 acres bequeathed by J. R. Miller. The plans for the buildings will be arranged to provide for widows and orphans, and many members of the grand lodge would also like to see infirm and aged Masons provided for.

Michael Harrigan of Peoria went to the court house and permitted the sheriff to serve an attachment on him. He was then taken to the County Court and given two days to purge himself of contempt. Harrigan has been engaged in buying tax titles and for the last two months he and his sister, Maggie Harrigan, have been voluntary prisoners in his home. He refused to pay a portion of his taxes or to appear before the Board of Review, which, however, assessed him and his sister $50,000.

W. A. Simplough has filed suit in the Circuit Court of Rock Island County against the Fraternal Tribunes, a fraternal and benevolent organization. The suit is brought against the lodge and officers at Port Byron. The complaint alleges that he was injured for life by being initiated into the organization. He claims that the goat was connected with electricity, and that his body came in contact with the live wire. The case is attracting much attention, and is being watched by supreme officers of other lodges.

MURDER TRIAL IS PUT OVER.

Earl A. Ellsworth of Woodstock Faces Several Charges.

The Ellsworth murder trial was called in the McHenry County Circuit Court at Woodstock, and the State scored the first victory by obtaining the overruling of the defendant's motion to quash the first four counts of the indictment. After eleven jurors had been accepted the trial came to an abrupt halt when the State's attorney presented to the court a motion for a continuance until the January term, asserting it was impossible for the prosecution to proceed on account of the absence of one Mary Lee of Chicago. The motion was granted. Mary Lee, who was wanted as a witness by the State, was later arrested and is held as being an accessory after the fact. The crime for which Earl A. Ellsworth is to be tried is the alleged killing of A. W. Anderson on Feb. 28 last, when Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ellsworth and their boarder, Amos W. Anderson, lost their lives as the result of a fit of jealous rage on the part of the senior Ellsworth, in which he is alleged to have been aided and abetted by his son.

E. A. ELLSWORTH.

PREFER MAIMING TO WORK. Chester Convicts Chop Off Fingers of Right Hands. Two convicts named Neagdon and Rose in the southern Illinois penitentiary at Chester chopped off three fingers each from their right hands in order to avoid working in the foundry, where, they say, the demands made upon them were beyond their strength. Rose and Neagdon are not robust physically, and their tasks, they declared, were entirely unsuited to their strength. They said, however, that any complaint would be punished by confinement in solitary, so they resorted to the expedient of inflicting painful wounds on themselves in order to obtain at least a temporary relief. They procured an old rusty hatchet in some manner and each deliberately chopped off three fingers on the right hand. As soon as the men were discovered they were taken to the surgeon, who dressed their wounds, after which they were taken to the prison yard and made to stand upon a block the remainder of the day. R. J. Watson, who was a keeper over the foundry gang, resigned rather than be a party, he said, to such punishment.

WEAVER BUYS COAL LANDS.

Chicago Company Will Sink Shafts in Vicinity of Duquoin.

The Weaver Coal and Coke Company of Chicago has purchased the mining plant, together with 320 acres of land, of the Brown Mining Company of Pinckneyville. The mineral right to fifty acres of land joining this tract was also purchased from Mrs. Mary Sullivan. All preliminaries have been made for the sinking of a shaft by the Weaver company one mile north of Duquoin on the tract purchased a month ago, when the Jupiter mines were bought from the Jupiter Coal and Coke Company of the city. Three or four other shafts will also be sunk west of Duquoin on land acquired by the Weaver company, which is more than 1,000 acres.

RESCUER DROWNED IN BATH TUB.

Woman Loses Life in Effort to Aid Husband and Overcome by Gas.

Frank B. Townsend, a clerk in the general freight offices of the Iowa Central Railway, went into the bathroom at his home in Peoria to shampoo his head. The room was cold and he disconnected the pipe used to carry off the poisonous gas from the instantaneous heater. Within a few seconds he fell to the floor overcome by gas. His wife rushed to his assistance and, she too, was overcome. She fell into the bath tub filled with water and was drowned. Mr. Townsend was discovered by a servant and assistance was called. The woman was beyond recovery, but the attending physicians say that Townsend may recover.

RICH LEAD VEIN IS STRUCK.

Paying Ore Located in Large Quantities Near Bay City.

R. B. Black, a mining prospector representing a Pittsburg, Pa., company, has struck a rich vein of lead and zinc ore at Bay City, on the Ohio river. He began a year ago and sank a shaft 150 feet, striking an occasional pocket of ore. After going down that distance he began to drift, and 110 feet from the original shaft he struck a true fissure vein. The ore is pronounced by experts to be superior to that of the Joplin, Mo., district. Excitement runs high in the neighborhood, and land about there has advanced to large prices. One farm which two years ago was offered for sale for $300 has been sold for $21,000.

MYSTERY IN WOMAN'S DEATH.

Mrs. Edward Gomes Victim of a Bullet Wound Received in Strange Way.

Mrs. Edward Gomes died in Springfield from the effects of a bullet wound. With her dying breath she said: "It was an accident." Some persons, however, assert that Gomes had been ill treating his wife and that on the night of the tragedy he was intoxicated. Gomes came home late and placed his revolver under his pillow, he says. The weapon slipped down into the bed and when Mrs. Gomes awoke she was lying on it. In an effort to remove the pistol she accidentally discharged it.

SETTLE CONTEST AGAINST WILL.

Fight Over Robert Merkle Estate Is Adjusted Out of Court.

The contest against the will of the late Robert Merkle of Centralia by his half-brother, Charles Kalliofer of Chicago, has been settled out of court, on terms not made public. Mr. Merkle was in business in Centralia many years, and at his death in a Chicago sanitarium two years ago left quite a valuable estate.

It is no discredit to President Roosevelt to say that today he occupies a more prominent place in the eyes of Europe than even Emperor William. Europe is interested in trusts more than it is in military glory, just at present, and Roosevelt is to Europe the embodiment of the fight against them.

The United States army found the Cuban army and government to be a gang of hobo-skulking in the woods. After setting the worthless thing in the saddle it has asked that the remnant of the United States army be withdrawn from Cuba libre.

During the Grand Army encampment in Washington a former member of Mosby's Guerrillas entertained fifteen members of the G. A. R. Thus old time differences are buried in the patriotic pride of the present.

Is it true that the Wall Street interests were unwilling that President Roosevelt should gain the popularity which would ensue if he had been successful in his attempt to end the coal strike?

The proprietor of the three yellowest journals in the United States is democratic nominee for Congress from New York city. Even the national legislature cannot escape the saffron tinge.

If the American people once become convinced that it is a case of J. Pierpont Morgan, et al. versus Theodore Roosevelt, party lines will be forgotten in their haste to render the verdict.

Few men suffering as severely as is President Roosevelt with his wounded leg would have the force to engage in the herculean undertaking of a settlement of the coal strike.

It took Dr. Parkhurst only thirty-five minutes to sprint from the steamer on which he returned from Europe, enter his pulpit and preach a strenuous sermon.

Perhaps Mr. Roosevelt thought it just as well to have General Miles in the Philippines when General Alger returned to Washington a senator.

There was a great quantity and variety of water at the Saratoga watering resort but it was well diluted during the late democratic convention.

The mere fact that you feel like loafing does not entitle you to take up the time of a busy man telling him how the world ought to be run.

Predicts More Volcanic Activity.
The French scientist, M. De Saint-Aignan, who predicted the catastrophe about Martinique, has announced that there will be periods of volcanic activity early in November and early in February.

OBITUARY.

The remains of the late John Cunningham were interred at the Mill Creek cemetery Friday, October 3rd, 1902, in the presence of many friends and relatives, his death occurring Tuesday, Sept. 30. The deceased was born in Ireland, in 1845, coming to America in 1860. He resided in Chicago for several years, moving to Lake County about twenty years ago, where he has since made his home near Millburn. He had been a patient sufferer for many months. He leaves a wife and five children to mourn his loss, one son and four daughters. By his death the family lose a kind and gentle husband and father, and he will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

Through all pain, at times he'd smile;
A smile of heavenly birth,
And when the angels called him home,
He smiled farewell to earth.
Heaven retaineth now our treasure;
Earth the lonely casket keeps,
And the sunbeams love to linger
Where our sainted father sleeps.

A FRIEND.

MISS ORA BARNARD.
At the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Lightner, Friday evening, October 10th, 1902, occurred the death of Miss Ora Barnard, daughter of the late Jeremiah Barnard, of Benham's corner, in the town of Salem, Wisconsin. She was thirty-four years of age, and a victim of that dread disease, consumption. The funeral was held from Mr. Lightner's home on Sunday, Rev. Moore officiating, and the interment was at Liberty cemetery.

James B. Tazewell, of Elgin, came to his death very suddenly at his home, 579 Orange street, Monday of last week, from a fall down the cellar stairs. He struck his head at the bottom of the cellar and never regained consciousness. When found a short time later life was extinct. He had been working about the house and among other things had been engaged in carrying earth out of the cellar. It is thought that while carrying up a load he either made a misstep or was taken with a dizzy spell. About 5:30 his dead body was found by his son-in-law, Wm. R. Fuller. Deceased was born in England, and at the time of his death was 64 years, 8 months and 24 days old. A wife, four sons and two daughters, and a sister, Mrs. Thomas Wilton, of Antioch, and a brother in Texas, survive him.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to extend thanks to those who so kindly assisted during the death and burial of Miss Ora Barnard, and especially to the singers.

McHenry County Democrat Sold.

John Duffield's old reliable newspaper, The McHenry County Democrat, has passed out of his possession into the hands of a stock company composed of: Attorneys Jackman, Lumley, Barnes, Casey and Jolly, and Messrs. George Murphy and Chas. Lemmers. Mr. Lemmers, for a number of years in charge of the Woodstock Sentinel, will be manager of the publication, which will be independent republican in politics and named the McHenry County Republican.

Now look out for war. The Sentinel is owned by Luman T. Hoy, secretary of the Republican State Central Committee, Messrs. Bagley and Jewett and others, known in McHenry county politics as the "Woodstock ring." What Charley Lemmers, who has been Hoy's man for twelve years, don't know about the "combine," is not worth knowing. Lumley, Jackman, Murphy have axes to grind and there will be music.

ADJOINING TOWNS

BRISTOL, WIS.

Harvey Gaines visited at the county seat on Friday.

Mrs. Frank Lane, of Kenosha, spent Saturday here.

Mrs. Lewis, of Kenosha, spent Sunday with Mrs. Shotliff.

Frank Burroughs wife and son went to Wilmot last Friday.

Miss Jennie Stevens, of Kenosha, stayed with friends here on Sunday.

Mrs. Turner, of Chicago, visited friends here the latter part of last week.

Miss Jennie Shumway spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Wm. Foulke.

Miss Mayme Toner, of Summit, spent Sunday with Miss Lulu Rowbottom.

Misses Josie and Jennie Loescher, of Salem spent Sunday with friends here.

Miss Addie Butler, of Pleasant Prairie, visited at the Gaines home on Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. George Ela, of Rochester is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Burgess.

John Hunt, who has been in California for some time looking after his interests there, returned to Bristol on Saturday.

The cemetery association gave their regular monthly dinner at the home of George Curtis. A large number enjoyed the repast.

Mr. Mitchell has purchased the Vincent farm and his son Fred, will move onto it in the near future. It is rumored that Mr. Vincent will move to California.

C. M. Bishop and wife, who have been spending some time in Nebraska, returned home Friday night. Mr. Bishop thinks that Wisconsin is good enough for him.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Castle, of Chicago, who have been visiting here for the past week, returned to Chicago last Sunday. Miss Hazel Pike accompanied them home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Perrigo were called to Antioch on Saturday, where Miss Ora Barnard, a former resident of our village died on Friday. Miss Barnard made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Perrigo for some time while here.

At the County Convention Mr. Henry Timme was nominated for sheriff. Mr. Timme was sheriff four years ago and made a very careful and painstaking official. His many friends here will be glad to cast their ballots for him again.

While Rev. Cole was out for a bicycle ride on Friday, he lost control of his wheel and was thrown to the ground. When found by Dr. Stevens he was in a dazed condition and did not regain consciousness for some time after he was brought home. His many friends will be glad to know that he was not seriously injured as was at first reported.

A. R. Cornwell, F. R. Lavey and Fred Blackman were selected at the Republican caucus as delegates to the County Convention. A primary election was held and the delegates instructed for a whole county ticket. It is a sure thing that the primary election law as tried at the caucus would give a black eye to that system of "herding" the voters, which is now so generally practiced.

The "Rose Special" came through our village last Friday. Rose buttons were scattered among those who went to the depot and democratic literature was distributed. Mayor Rose spoke to a very small crowd and there were but few Rose sympathizers among those present. He attempted an expose of La Follette and taxation, exposed the book deal and declared for sin-taxation and wound up his speech with a statement that if elected, he would do for the people of the state what he had done for the people of Milwaukee. The trip through the county was a failure for the democrats and many were heard to remark, that the Rose which is now so beautiful to behold would receive its frost in November.

GRAYSLAKE, ILL.

Mrs. J. Wicks has been entertaining a friend from Michigan.

Mrs. R. Parker, of Downers Grove, is visiting relatives here.

Do not forget the Sunday school convention held here Oct. 17 and 18.

Elsworth Murgatroyd, of Vesper, Wis., is visiting his sister, Mrs. Johnson.

H. Dombiski had his barn raised on Wednesday and a large crowd were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Cup Morrill have moved into their new house on Westerfield place.

Eugene Wilmington went to Dwight last week where he has accepted a position.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Strang visited relatives at Newport on Saturday evening and Sunday.

A new furnace has been put in the church, also a new carpet and other improvements.

Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson attended the funeral of Mrs. Richardson's brother-in-law at Volo last Thursday.

Mrs. J. Seeholtz accompanied Mrs. Faron to Sumner, Iowa, last week, where she will visit her parents and other relatives.

The school will give an entertainment in the M. W. A. hall Friday evening, Oct. 24. Proceeds to be used to buy a new organ for Miss Hendee's room.

Miss Anna Galiger was united in marriage to Rev. Whitney of Iowa, at her home on Wednesday, Oct. 15, at high noon, Rev. Stevens performing the ceremony.

Smith Wright sold his saloon building to Mr. Swartz, of Waukegan. H. Wheeler and M. Slusser will run the saloon. Mr. Wright and family will move to Burlington, Wis.

The Church Aid society will meet at the church next Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 22. Mesdames C. Washburn, Wicks, White and Eimons will entertain. Supper served. Visitors welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Seeholtz moved Wednesday into O. Washburn's house. Mr. and Mrs. Washburn are at present stopping with Mr. Washburn's parents and later will go to Tennessee to spend the winter.

Dr. Palmer was called to Fox Lake on Saturday night where a man by the name of Stephen Thather, who was stopping with his brother at that place, tried to commit suicide by cutting several gashes in his throat and other parts of his body. The doctor dressed the wounds and the man was sent to his home in Chicago. As the train neared Rondout he breathed his last.

At 2:30 Wednesday morning G. E. Thayer, who lives a little north of town was awakened by some one trying to get in at the window, not succeeding he went to the door and pounded declaring he would get in and do serious damage. Mr. Thayer then fired a shot which hit the man. It proved to be Pat Sullivan, who lives on the Stines place at Big Hollow, he

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased. Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling how to secure it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. ### Buried for Six Days.

Henry Davis, or Drew, as he is called, has gained considerable notoriety of late, not only as a professional ball player, but as a hypnotist. The Milwaukee Sentinel of October 4 contains a double column portrait of Henry and the following account of his remarkable display of nerve: "The most interesting feature of the Kenosha carnival which closed Saturday evening, was furnished by Henry Drew, a Milwaukee base ball player, who for the last six days has been buried alive under eight feet of earth. Drew claims that he was under a hypnotic spell, but those who witnessed the burial and resurrection and followed the experiment during the week claim that the man was not hypnotized, but that his exhibition of nerve was a marvelous one. These people claim that Drew consented to be buried under the ground and that for the six days he has managed to spend his time watching the faces of the curious spectators. Drew was taken from his temporary grave with a great deal of ceremony, and after he had been released from the coffin one of his friends made a speech in which he said that no man had ever been able to spend so long a time under ground without suffering from the experiment."

Don't Get Coal Crazy.

Let nobody become excited at sensational newspaper stories of a fuel famine or rush around bidding up the price of soft coal. There is absolutely no need to pay extravagant figures, say the Chicago Chronicle.

There is now and will be all winter an ample supply of soft coal at prices very little higher than obtained last year. The president of a well known company makes the public declaration that he will furnish coal at $4 per ton. Hence the Chicago citizen who pays $5 or $6 or more, is merely throwing his money away as the result of his unfounded fears.

The people of the city are more fortunate than residents of suburban towns. Here we are paying now, before cold weather has settled in, $5.50 to $5.75 per ton for the bituminous article and threatened with an increase. There seems no good reason why such an advance in price should be inflicted upon suburbanites. Last year at this time local coal dealers were charging $4.50 per ton for the soft coal product. There has been no advance in freight rates and the supply is as great now as one year ago.

The consumer is the sufferer. As the Chronicle says, "nobody is going to suffer from lack of fuel if the dealers sell their holdings at a fair margin of profit." This they will do in the city where there is strong competition. In the country towns the coal man is a monarch of the situation. You pay the price asked or go without the coal and that's all there is to it.

Illinois Central Through to Florida

Beginning Monday, Jan. 6, 1902, the Illinois Central will run a through sleeping car between Chicago and Jacksonville, Florida, via Nashville, Chattanooga and Atlanta. It will leave Chicago daily at 6:10 p. m. and arrive at Jacksonville the second morning, running over the celebrated "Dixie Flyer" scenic route. This is an extension of its all-the-year-round Chicago and Nashville sleeping-car line.

The Wisconsin Central Railway

Maintains a daily train service between Chicago, Milwaukee, Manitowish, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Ashland and Duluth, reaching Eau Claire, Chippewa Falls, Marshfield, Harley, Ironwood and Bascom as well as the principal points of Wisconsin enroute. Connections with roads, running South, East, West and North, are made at terminal points. Pullman Sleepers are attached to all night trains and meals are served. A LaCrosse. Any agent of the Wisconsin Ry. will be pleased to give you further information, furnish tickets and reserve sleeping car accommodations. J. A. O'Pond, Gen. Pass. Agt., Milwaukee.

A SISTER'S VENGEANCE

By GEORGE MANVILLE FENN

The man was stung, and lay perfectly inert as Humphrey and his companion struggled to their feet, panting with exertion, and listening for the return of the party who had gone on.

"But they had not heard the noise of the struggle, the muffled turnings of the path had shut it out, and their voices now came muffled and soft, as if from a distance."

Then Humphrey felt his hand gripped firmly.

"This way,"

"What! Are you going to take me back to prison?" said Humphrey, mockingly.

"Did you wish to go straight to death?"

"I am going straight to liberty!" cried Humphrey.

"This way, then," whispered his companion; and without a word Humphrey allowed himself to be led back along the dark arcade, listening to the heavy panting of his guide, who seemed to be breathing heavily, as if in pain.

For some time no word was spoken. Then, as he became aware of his companion's purpose, Humphrey stopped short.

"You are leading me back to that cursed prison," he said, fiercely. "Loose my hand."

"I am leading you to the only place where you will be safe," was whispered back. "Have I not suffered enough, man? Do you think I wish to die with the knowledge that these dogs will seize and rend you?"

"Lead me."

"Yes. They have risen. That wretch, whom I have spared so long in my weak folly, is at their head. Humphrey Armstrong, believe me, I am trying to have your life."

"Then why not make for the shore? A boat! Give me a boat and let me go!"

"Half the men who were faithful to me are dead, treacherously burned to death in their quarters. I cannot explain; but the doorway was blocked by those fiends. The landing place is guarded by a portion of his blood-thirsty gang. To go to the shore is to seek your death. Will you not trust me now?"

"It is to keep me here!" he cried fiercely.

"To keep you here when I would gladly say go! Trust me. Give me time to think. I was coming to save you when we met. Will you not believe?"

"Yes," cried Humphrey, hoarsely. "I will trust you!"

"Ha!"

That was all. His hand was gripped more tightly; and, as he yielded to his companion, he felt himself led with unerring decision in and out among the moldering ruins of the edge of the clearing to the side of the old amphitheater, a faint metallic clink from time to time indicating that a sword was being struck upon the stones to make sure of the way.

"You are going back there?" said Humphrey.

"Yes," came back, hoarsely. "Do not speak. We may be heard."

Humphrey was conscious that his guide had led him to the altar and sunk upon it with a moan; but she still tightly clung to his hand.

There they remained in silence as if listening for pursuit; and the deep, hoarse breathing of both sounded painfully loud in the utter darkness.

Humphrey essayed to speak again and again, but he felt that he could not trust himself to utter words.

It was his companion who broke the painful silence as she still clung to his hand.

"I ought to have acted sooner," she said, bitterly. "I might have known it, but in my cruel selfishness I could not let you go. Do not blame me—do not reproach me. It was my madness; and now the punishment has come."

"I do not understand you," he said, huskily.

"You do," she said, gently. "But it is no time to think of this. Listen! These men will search every spot to find and slay me—and you; but you shall escape. Now listen: Below this old place there is a rock chamber, known only to me and Bart—who lies wounded yonder and helpless; but he will not betray the secret, even if he thins that you are there. You will go to the end of your couch, press heavily with your shoulder against the corner, forcing it in this direction, and then the great stone will move upon a pivot. There is a way down."

"You need not tell me," said Humphrey at this point. "I know."

"Thank Heaven!" she ejaculated. "Keep in hiding there till the wretches are off their guard; and then cautiously make your way by night down to the landing place, and by some means seize a boat. There will be no guard kept when I am gone."

"And my people—my poor fellows?"

"Gone," she said, quietly. "They seized a boat and escaped long ago. All has been confusion here since—since I have been mad," she added, piteously.

"Escaped?"

"Yes; and you will escape. And in the future, when you are away—and happy—don't curse me—think of me as a poor woman, driven by fate—to what I am—but who saw and loved you, Humphrey Armstrong, as woman has seldom loved before."

"Oh, hush!" he said, huskily. "For Heaven's sake, don't speak like that!"

"No," she said, gently. "I will not speak. It is nearly over now. You will forgive me?"

"Forgive you—yes!"

She uttered a low sigh, full of thankfulness, as she still clung to his hand.

"It is enough," she said. "Now, go! You know the way. Be cautious, be patient and bide your time; and then Heaven speed you safely home! He has forgiven me," she sighed to herself, and the pressure upon his hand seemed to increase.

"Well," she said, after a few moments' pause, "why do you stay?"

Her voice startled him in its intensity, for it seemed to echo through the place; and his hand had, as it had been for many minutes past, grasped hers with crushing force as the tide rose to its fullest height and bore him on.

"And you?" he said. "What will you do?"

"If," she said, with a faint laugh. "I shall wait here until they come."

"Wait here?" cried Humphrey. "They will kill you!"

"Yes," she said, softly.

"Then why not share my flight. Come with me now while there is time. I will protect you and take you where you will. I cannot leave you like this!"

"Not leave me?" she said, with a sob.

"No. Do you think me such a cur that I could leave you to the mercy of these wretches?"

"It is too late," she said. "Go!"

"Go?"

"Yes, while there is time."

"But you can hide as well as I!" he cried, excitedly. "Come!"

"It is too late," she said, and he felt her hand tremble in his grasp.

"And leave you?" he cried. "I would sooner die!"

"Then you do love me?" she cried, wildly, as she half rose from the altar, but sank back.

"Love you?" he cried, passionately. "I have fought with it, I have battled with it till I have been nearly mad! Love you, Mary, my brave, true heroine! I love you with all my heart!"

She uttered a wild cry of joy as he threw himself upon his knees and clasped her to his heart, her two arms clung tightly round his neck, as she uttered a low moan of mingled joy and pain.

"Love you?" he whispered, as he raised his face, and his lips sought hers. "My darling! words will not tell my love! Come, what is the world to us? You are my world, my own, my love! Come!"

"No," she whispered. "You asked me of my wound. It is home. Humphrey Armstrong, this is to be my tomb!"

"What!" he cried. "Oh, no! no! no! You must live to bless me with your love!"

"Live to disgrace you with my love!"

"Mary!"

There was such a depth of love, such intensity in the tone in which he uttered her name, that she moaned aloud.

"Ah, you are in pain!" he cried.

"In pain for you," she whispered, "for you suffer for my sake. Hush! Do you hear?"

She clung to him tightly.

"No," he said, "there is nothing."

"Yes," she said, softly. "Steps. I can hear them—they are coming back."

Mary signed to him to listen; at that moment the stone slab moved gently a few inches, for some one had seated himself upon the edge.

"Now, my lad," cried a hoarse voice, "you know all about it, and I'm captain now. Where's that prisoner?"

"Sure and how could I know any way, Black Mizzard?"

"Captain Mizzard!" roared the first speaker.

"Oh, murd'ers! Put them pistols away, and I'll call ye captain, or admiral if ye like!"

"No fooling! Where is that prisoner?"

"Which one, sor?"

"No fooling, Paddy! Captain Armstrong!"

"Faix, an' he's here!"

"Faix, and that's true," said Dinny. "Where is he, then? Tell me the truth, and I'll let you live this time. Tell me a lie, and I'll hang you."

"Och, don't, captain! Ye'd waken yer crew horribly if ye were to hang me."

"I'll hang you as sure as you stand there, if you don't confess."

"Murd'ers! Don't now, captain, for I shouldn't die decently if ye did hang me. It isn't a way I've been accustomed to. Ah, mind! That pistol might go off."

"It will go off if you don't speak. He's hidden somewhere here, and you know where. Speak out!"

"Shpake out! And is it shpake out?"

Said Dinny, slowly, as with advanced blade Humphrey stood ready to plunge it into the breast of the first man who attempted to descend. "Oh, well, I'll shpake out then."

AN EASY PROBLEM.

Peculiar Figuring of an Indolent Village Couple.

Hubbard Lawton, familiarly known as "Hub," was by common consent the most shiftless man in Pineville. He had been known to "saw and split" in a desultory way for a few of the summer visitors, but beyond that Hub and labor were strangers.

The most easy-going woman in the town was Lucy Harmon, who did a little dressmaking when the fit seized her; but as a rule she sat tranquilly on her front doorstep in summer, and in her front window during spring, autumn and winter, doing nothing whatever with great contentment of mind and body.

Hub required financial aid from his relatives every month, and it was understood that Lucy received contributions from her neighbors without any false pride. When it was announced by Hub that he and Lucy were soon to be married, a plain-spoken neighbor asked a pointed question.

"How are you and Lucy expecting to live?" she inquired. "Who's going to earn your bread and butter, Hub? Lucy's folks nor her neighbors won't feel any call to feed her when she's married to an able-bodied man!"

"Why," said Hub, reproachfully, "I don't know what folks are thinking of! Half a dozen people have asked me that same question. I can almost support myself, and Lucy can almost support herself, and I should think anybody with a head for figures could see that when we live forces there'll be something left over for a rainy day."

Living on Microscopic Pay.

Millions of Hindus live, marry and rear families on an income which rarely exceeds 50 cents a week. They never eat meat and need hardly any clothing.

BRYAN'S PREDICTION

One would hardly believe it possible that this is one of the things said by Bryan in 1896:

"If McKinley and the Republican party are successful and put in power for the next four years, wages will be decreased. Hard times will come upon us and over the land. The price of wheat will come down and the price of gold will go up. Mortgages on our farms will be foreclosed by the money lenders. Shops and factories will be closed. We will export no goods and we will import from foreign lands the goods which we use. Thus will ruin, want and misery be with us."

OUR STATE INSTITUTIONS.

Their Management During the Last Twenty Months Has Been Thorough.

At the convention of the League of Republican Clubs, held at Peoria, September 24, 1902, Gov. Yates spoke at some length on the state institutions. After calling attention to the condition of these institutions at the end of Gov. Altgeld's administration, and the high state of excellence which they achieved under the administration of the late Gov. Tanner, he said, in part:

"One of the issues in this campaign in Illinois will be the question whether our state institutions have been managed with that economy, efficiency and humanity which we in 1898 and 1900 promised to the people. Upon this point it may be said that during recent years the protection of the unfortunate part of the body politic has been insured, as never before by the state legislation of the republican party. Juvenile offenders have been separated from hardened criminals, and where found guilty of a first offense, from jail influences of any kind. An earnest effort has been made to prevent the unfortunate circumstances of birth and early education ripening or robbing into habitual crime."

"The management of state institutions by republican boards has been more than excellent. True economy in the care or cure of the insane, in the education of the blind, of the deaf and dumb, and in the management of charitable establishments, does not consist in the reduction of the cost of living to the lowest scale, but in such expenditures as shall result in the largest number of cures, where cure is possible; in the best education where the minds are susceptible of education, and in the utmost possible in the way of alleviation of the sufferings of such as are incurable. The charity of the people goes out for the cure and care of these unfortunate, not for a mere maintenance of them in a state of prolonged misery."

"In organizing the boards of trustees and commissioners and examiners and managers at the beginning of this administration, it was attempted to retain at least one experienced trustee on each board, and about one-third of the entire board of trustees was retained. I am profoundly convinced that the management of the state institutions during the 20 months of this administration has experienced no change for the worse."

"Upon careful examination of the qualifications of the heads of 18 state institutions, and the secretaries of the 14 boards having secretaries, it was found difficult to improve upon the incumbents, and only two superintendents and three secretaries have been changed. Of the physicians, 70 in all, only ten have been changed, every change being, as I believe, for the absolute good of the service. Of the superintendents and teachers in the normal schools and the teachers in the other state schools, none have been changed, so far as I can recollect."

OUR FLAG IN THE PHILIPPINES

"We know now that steady and faithful adherence to the course which McKinley began and Roosevelt is following will prove beyond question or cavil the truth of the declaration that our flag has never waved over any community but in blessing, and that it has not lost its gift of benediction in its worldwide journey to the Philippine shores."—Secretary of War Root, at Peoria, September 24, 1902, to League of Republican Clubs.

The "ready to print" editorials sent out by the democratic state committee, in all its 12 columns, contribute not one line of political issues. They advocate no policy, but the writer of these ready-made editorials contents himself with indulging in personal abuse of republican officials, republican candidates and republicans generally. Be it said to the credit of the intelligent democratic country editor, very few of them and none of the better class of papers, use these abusive editorials.

THE YELLOW METAL.

Facts Which Reflect Great Credit on the Republican Party and Make Bryanites Sick.

It is no wonder that Coin Harvey has sought that seclusion which so becomes him. It isn't surprising that Bryan has turned his attention to the soil. Neither is it a matter of surprise that democracy is doubtful as to the wisdom of making any sort of untied and harmonious effort to gain control of the general government. It is but recently that the party was diligently engaged in an effort to prove that adoption of the single gold standard by the advanced nations of the world was the first step to the enslavement of the people. With solemn faces and hollow voices, which made those who saw and heard them feel as though "the last day had come," these prophets of evil declared that the stock of gold in the world was inadequate to the demands upon it and all that sort of nonsense still fresh in the minds of the people. Confident that it was all right, the republican party pressed forward and put its ideas into practice.

The currency of the country was put on the single gold standard, and the results have been acceptable in every particular.

A new high water mark is made almost every day in the amount of gold held by the government. A few days ago the record was $76,522,374, a sum far exceeding that now held by any other government, and only once in modern times—by Russia some years ago, when it acquired an immense stock of the yellow metal for the purpose of withdrawing paper currency.

The steady increase of gold in the treasury is explained by officials in the heavy receipts from the Nome and Klondike fields and the preference of the people for paper money in business transactions. Some gold has come from Australia settling balances and several millions more is on the way.

Nearly all of this will find its way into the treasury through deposits in San Francisco. Of the total sum held by the government, only $97,000,000, however, is "free" gold, or not set aside for some specific purpose.

The reserve fund takes up $150,000,000, while $359,593,089 in coin is held for the redemption of that amount in gold certificates in circulation. The amount of these certificates outstanding is steadily increasing, and since January 1, $42,808,000 has been added to the volume of circulating notes. The latter has also been augmented in the same period by additional deposits of $14,000,000 of the government funds with the national banks, making the total now held by these institutions $120,650,300.

In the light of these facts, the republican party has ample reason for pride in its achievements and a just claim for an opportunity to further direct the affairs of government in the interest of the whole people.

THE ILLINOIS MINER.

Has Had More Employment Since the Republican Party Resumed Helm of Government.

No class of laboring men in the state or country at large has profited more by republican policies which have brought about the present prosperous condition of our country than have the miners of Illinois. One of the most reliable statistical reports is that of the labor statistics, a thoroughly nonpartisan production. A glance at the most recent bulletin of that bureau discloses the fact that there has not only been a very large increase in the number of miners employed since 1897, when the republican party again resumed the helm of government, but in the tonnage as well. The following is taken from this bulletin:

Miners employed in 1897.....	32,133
Miners employed in 1898.....	35,036
Miners employed in 1899.....	35,930
Miners employed in 1900.....	39,374
Miners employed in 1901.....	44,113
The total tonnage output in 1897.....	768,647
The total tonnage output in 1898.....	972,705
The total tonnage output in 1899.....	1,169,226
The total tonnage output in 1900.....	2,434,445
The total tonnage output in 1901.....	2,163,829
The total tonnage output in 1902.....	2,635,339

The bulletin of wages during the years covered by the above statement has not been published, but the statistics at hand show even a greater per cent. of increase in wages than in output or men employed.

Republican leaders rejoice that the democratic campaign handbook, which is rather better than usual, makes free trade the leading issue. They find in that book satisfactory evidence to prove that the democratic party proposes to establish absolute free trade if it returns to power, and believe that upon that issue the democrats can make absolutely no headway.—Champaign Gazette.

THE DEMOCRATS AND THE TARIFF

"Every time the Democratic party tried to put its principles into legislation we have had disaster and our laborers have begged bread in the street. The best of the bad Democratic times were the years 1893-1897 and they were bad as we want to know."

From a speech by Secretary Shaw at Chicago, September 22, 1902.

BEAGLES WERE TINY DOGS.

Little Hound of Ancient Breed Could Be Carried in a Glove.

There is no question that the beagle is a very old breed. Early Roman accounts of England contain references to the beagle, even by name. Books published from about 1550 to 1610 describe several varieties of hounds, including "the little beagle which may be carried in a man's glove." That the miniature hound was extremely popular at that time was evident from Queen Elizabeth keeping a pack which were also said to be small enough to put in a glove, says the Country Life in America.

This statement is frequently ridiculed when it is not understood that gloves of that period were not the present-day kind, but gauntlets reaching nearly to the elbow. What became of those glove beagles we may surmise from what we know of the results of later attempts to maintain packs of beagles of eight to ten inches high, the result after some years being weak puppies that fall short of the fine qualities of the little hunting dog
when they are grown up.

Look out for Fever

Biliousness and liver disorders at this season may be prevented by cleansing the system with DeWitt's Little Early Risers.
These famous little pills do not gripe.
They move the bowels gently, but copiously, and by reason of the tonic properties give tone and strength to the system. W.
T. Hill.

"Tigers" Now the Rage.

The stalwart footmen of 6 feet or more who so long were in favor among the ultra-well set of New York have been displaced by good-looking boys between 13 and 15 years of age, especially on carriages. Handsome little fellows of the Fauntery type are now quite the correct thing.

Out Of Death's Jaws.

"When death seemed very near from a severe stomach and liver trouble, that I had suffered with for years," writes P.
Muse, Durham, N. C., Dr. King's New Life Pills saved my life and gave perfect health. Best pills on earth and only 25c at W. T. Hill's drug store.

Umbrellas Denote Power.

In Slam a magnate's dignity and power are reckoned according to the number of umbrellas he possesses.
One of these magnates is proud to begin his titles with "Lord of Thirty-seven Umbrellas." Among certain African tribes the grandeur of the individual increases with the size and not with the number of umbrellas he possesses.

America's Famous Banties.

Look with horror on skin eruptions, blisters, sores and pimples. They don't have them, nor will any one, who uses Buckley's Arnica Salve. It glorifies the

it. It cures sore lips, chapped hands, chilblains. Infallible for piles. 25c at W. T.

Building Her Own House.

A New Jersey woman, Mrs. Sarah Jane Griffith, is engaged in building her own house without the assistance of any members of the sterner sex, says the New York Commercial Advertiser. She is a man hater as well as a carpenter. Having been deserted by her husband some years ago, she decided to forswear masculine society for the rest of her life. Rather than hire workmen to erect her house she is building it unaided, and with her own hands, she has already completed five rooms, having done all the work from foundation to roof, including the digging of the cellar and the laying of the masonry, the lathing and the plastering. She has placed a furnace in the cellar and has piped her house, the system of heating being, hot air.

Married on Small Capital.

Lack of cash did not prevent a Hoboken bridegroom from plunging into the sea of matrimony. Accompanied by his intended bride, and with all his worldly wealth neatly tucked in his watchpocket, he aroused Justice Pfundmiller at the unseasonable hour of 4 o'clock in the morning. The magistrate married them, and the groom generously gave him one-half of his wealth, 50 cents.

Only A Very Few Published.

It is not possible for the proprietors to publish more than a very few of the numerous letters received in praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and telling of its remarkable cures.
They come from people in every walk in life and from every state in the Union.
The following from Mr. T. W. Greathouse of Prattburg, Ga., speaks for itself: "I would have been dead now but for the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It cured me of chronic diarrhoea after seven years of suffering.
I can never say too much in praise of that remedy. For sale by all druggists

Dressmaker Has Right Idea.

A dressmaker at the Chicago convention complains bitterly that in her first year of business she accumulated $1,200 worth of uncollectable accounts. "No matter how beautiful the gown we can make, if our business does not bring adequate financial returns for the time and money expended, we cannot account it a success," said she. She seems to have the right idea.

Forty Years of Torture.

To be relieved from a torturing disease after 40 years' torture might well cause the gratitude of anyone. That is what De-Witt's Witch Hazel Salve did for C. Han-ey, Geneva, O. He says: "DeWitt's Witch Hazel salve cured me of piles after I had suffered 40 years." Cures cuts, burns, wounds, skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits. For sale by W. T. Hill.

Church Whistlers.

Whistling in church, once regarded as a profanation, now bids fair to become a regular feature of the service.
At one of the New York churches Miss Louise Truax has introduced the novelty of whistling the offertory. So successful has this been in attracting the congregation to worship that many of the most fashionable churches in the city are now bidding for her services.

Makes a Queer Pedigree.

A headline writer on the News asserts that Nicholas Fish, who died from the effect of injuries received in a drunken brawl, "was the son of Grant's secretary of state and of Gotham's 400." This is a pedigree quite as remarkable as that of the Taylor pup in Eugene Field's ballad, which was "stirred of such a noble sire
and damned by every one."—Detroit Free Press.

Financier May Retire.

Natural Anxiety.

Mothers regard approaching winter with uneasiness, children take cold so easily.
No disease costs more little lives than croup.
It's attack is so sudden that the sufferer is often beyond human aid before the doctor arrives. Such cases yield readily to One Minute Cough Cure. Liquidifies the mucus, allays inflammation, removes danger. Absolutely safe. Acts immediately. Cures coughs, colds, grip, bronchitis, all throat and lung trouble. F. S. McMahon, Hampton, Ga.: "A bad cold rendered me voiceless just before an oratorical contest. I intended to withdraw but took One Minute Cough Cure. It restored my voice in time to win the medal." W. T. Hill.

A Young Lady on Courtship.

Did anybody ever hear a gushing, extravagant young lady tell what she thought about anything extraordinary?
Well, that's nothing to what they write.
We have a short story written by one, and find that "splendid" occurs sixty-four times; "beautiful," seventy-seven; "delightful," sixty-one;
"nice," 611; "delicious," 205; "lovely," thirty-three. Of course she was writing about courtship.

Kansas City university, that a union

Consumption Among Chinamen.

The crowded condition of Chinatown in New York, is responsible for many deaths from consumption there.
Under bad sanitary conditions, doctors say, this disease is more contagious than any other, though its approach is more insidious. A movement is now afoot to have erected a

Do Good-It Pays.

A Chicago man has observed that, "Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose by it." Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: My good friend cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine.
It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." Sold by all druggists.

MARRY OUTSIDE OF SECT.

Jewish Exclusiveness Seems to Be Breaking Up.

"Is Jewish exclusiveness a legend rather than a reality?" asks the London Chronicle, in connection with the following data from Australia, which would seem to suggest an affirmative answer. In New South Wales, according to the recently published matrimonial statistics, during the last year no fewer than sixty-seven Jewesses selected husbands from the Church of England, while seventeen married with Catholics and eleven found their admitties in the Presbyterian fold. One hundred and fifty-one Jews were united to Anglican wives, sixty-two to Catholics, thirteen to Presbyterians, twelve to Methodists, four to non-denominationalists and two to Congregationalists, while a solitary son of Israel is reported to have wed a Baptist. Altogether out of 781 Jewish marriages, 341 were more or less "mixed"—a favorable showing for modern Anglo-Israelitism.—Baltimore Sun.

His Life in Peril.

"I just seemed to have gone all to pieces," writes Alfred Lee, of Welford, Tex., biliousness and a lame back had made life a burden. I couldn't eat or sleep and felt almost to worn out to work when I began to use Electric Bitters, but they worked wonders. Now I sleep like a top, can eat anything, have gained in strength and enjoy hard work. They give vigorous health and new life to weak, sickly run-down people. Try them. Only 50c at W. T. Hill's drug store.

Caution.

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boschee's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup—and especially for Consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the night and mornings there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25-cent size has just

Staffordshire Houses.

The fancy for Staffordshire houses still continues, and ladies have taken to lighting up their drawing rooms with them. They put a tiny lamp inside, so that the light shall show through the windows of the diminutive house or castle. These houses were first made for candlesticks, and later on were chiefly used as night-light burners in the days when people thought it unhealthy to ventilate a sick room.

Mme. Janaschek's Portrait.

The Berliner Tageblatt, in acknowledging the receipt of a sum of money for the paralyzed actress, Mme. Janaschek, calls attention to the fact that her portrait is generally known in Germany, it being on one side of the thaler pieces coined at Frankfurt.

Without Benefit of Clergy.

He died in town this summer. During his last illness his wife nursed him over the telephone from Newport; his doctor treated him by telegraph from Bar Harbor, and a letter, written from the top of the Alps by his clergyman, was read over him at the funeral.—Life.

The Worst Form.

Multitudes are singing the praises of Kodol, the new discovery, which is making so many sick people well and weak people strong by digesting what they eat, by cleansing and sweetening the stomach and by transforming their food into the kind of pure, rich, red blood that makes you feel good all over. Mrs. Cranfill, of Troy, I. T., writes: "For a number of years I was troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia which grew into the worst form. Finally I was induced to use Kodol, and after using four bottles I am entirely cured. I heartily recommend Kodol to all sufferers from indigestion and dyspepsia. Take a dose after meals. It digests what you eat. For sale
